Mixed Chorus Concerts Begin Monday In Convocation Hall

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the University of Alberta Mixed Chorus will present its eighth consecutive concert, in Con Hall, starting at 8:15 p.m.

With seven previous successes to their credit, chorus members feel that this year's varied program will be equally well received, and so run their record to "eight straight".

For the fifth consecutive year, Richard S. Eaton, professor of music in the fine arts department, is conducting the 130 members of the chorus.

Although the general admission price is $1.00, a special reduced rate of 85 cents is offered to all students producing their university campus "A" cards. Tickets are currently on sale in Arts and Ed buildings, and downtown at Heintzman's. The over-town sale ends Saturday, Jan. 26th.

Ticket Sales Good

Chorus Ticket Manager Bob Elliott states that sales are going well, and according to present indications the chorus will once again be singing to three full houses. He also reminds students that all Mixed Chorus members have tickets for sale, and students would be well advised to make their purchases very soon.

Members of the Golden Key Society, who will be ushering at the concerts, wish to remind all patrons that there are no reserved seats. All tickets are at the same price, and merely entitle the holder to admission.

Mixed Chorus was invited to participate in the official welcome of the Duke of Edinburgh and Princess Elizabeth early last fall. Preparations for this special event robbed Professor Eaton of valuable rehearsal time. All 130 members are confident that they have overcome this early setback, old chorus members and the executive are pleased at the quality of the program which is to be presented.

Selections Varied Have Been Held
Four months of twice weekly practices, under the direction of Mr. Eaton, have molded the many choristers into a fine choral group. Selections to be presented are varied, including religious and secular music, folk songs, negro spirituals, and several of the most popular selections from last year's program. The complete concert program, to be given in four sections, begins with a selection from the Greek liturgy, "How Blest Are They," by Tchaikovsky. This is followed by

Symphony Makes Red Deer Concert

University of Alberta Symphony Orchestra is going on tour. At last some of the hopes and aspirations of the Orchestra and its executive will be realized—the Orchestra is giving a concert outside the city. This is a big step forward in the history of the Orchestra, and the whole student body wishes them well.

It all began with the Quota Club of Red Deer asked if the Orchestra would be able to give a concert in their city. Last year the Quota Club began a series of concerts called

Ag-Beermen Rivalry Flares As Lawyers Rescue Engineer

A spark was applied to the powder keg in the SUB Games Room Tuesday afternoon as traditional Ag-Engineer rivalry flared out in open conflict.

Apparently over a dispute as to who should use a pool table, an Engineer and an Aggie exchanged insults and then blows before a violently partisan crowd.

Several colorful epithets were flung about during the quarrel, some of them obviously not intended for the ears of ladies. Heard were: "You dirty plow-pusher, who do you think you're shoving around. Pull the straw out of your ears." "Ah, go push a slide-rule, you refugee from a test tube. You engineers and your Queen Campaign make me sick." From here on the dialogue degenerated.

As fistfuffs were being exchanged, two unidentified lawyers rushed to the aid of the stricken engineer, who was obviously taking a bad beating. The belligerent Aggie was quickly dragged from the room and order restored. He has not been heard from since, but it is suspected the Law Club is holding him in custody, with or without Habeas Corpus.

The brawl is felt to be the most recent manifestation of a rivalry that has long been smoldering between these two faculties. The impending Engineers' Ball is believed to have heightened this feeling.

Immediately after the fracas the executive of the Law Club issued the following statement:

"This is the last straw. The Law Club have noted with growing disgust the abominable attitude of the Ags toward our dear friends, the Engineers. We do not intend to stand idly by and watch these poor innocent babes in arms, who have never done anything mean to anybody, and who cannot defend themselves, be so badly treated. We have therefore decided to take action against the perpetrators of this outrage. There will be a trial of this Ag fellow on Tuesday, Jan. 29th, at 4:30 p.m., in Med 142. The Law Club will attend to arrangements. The public is urged to come and see justice done."

Alberta Loses Both Decisions For McGoun Cup

University of Saskatchewan debaters Stanley Kutz and Bill Miner, speaking against the statement, "Resolved that western rearmament is detrimental to world peace," by an unanimous decision defeated Alberta debaters David McDonald and Louis Desrochers, in the McGoun Cup contest Friday night.

The McGoun Cup, symbol of Western Canada debating supremacy, was won for the second time in two years by the University of Manitoba, whose debaters, Arthur V. Mauro and David Bowman, defeated Alberta's Garth Fryett and Donald Andrews, who upheld the negative of the resolution.

Manitoba also defeated University of British Columbia debaters, winning top place. University of Saskatchewan came second, and the University of British Columbia was third.

Chairman of the debate here was Dr. H. B. Mayo, honorary president of the Debating Union, and the judges were L. Y. Cairns, K.C., G. H. Steer, K.C., and Dean W. F. Bowker.

Speaking for the affirmative, David McDonald said that Russia does not want or need a war to achieve her political purposes. He pointed out that western rearmament, and the U.S. desire for "a position from which to negotiate", which means one from which to issue an ultimatum, might drive Russia into "a war of desperation," or the west itself might have to begin a preventive war.

He said that instead of rearmament, negotiations in good faith were necessary. By constructive short range methods, we "can halt the engine of war which even now we are putting into second gear."

First speaker for the negative, Stanley Kutz, said that Russia is "an aggressor who respects only force." Since a UN police force is now impossible, a NATO force is the closest thing to an international police force. Russia has proved she does not mean to keep faith. "We are no longer fighting an idea, we are fighting the largest peacetime army ever amassed," Kutz stated.

Lou Desrochers demonstrated the fallacy in the old Roman principle, "If you desire peace, prepare for war." The history of man, from the Missions Topic S.C.M. Seminar

The topic of missions was thrashed out during a six-day conference of 2,000 North American students, at the quadrennial conference of the Student Volunteer Movement of America, held in Lawrence, Kansas, from Dec. 27 to Jan. 1.

Among those at the conference were seven members of the Student Christian Movement, and one Lutheran student from the campus of the University of Alberta. These students will give a general report of the conference at a fireside in St. Stephen's College auditorium, Sunday night at 9 o'clock.

In speeches by leaders of the Christian world of today, students were presented with the challenge of missionary work, and many of the problems involved. Emphasis was laid that missions are not only foreign missions, but that every Christian must be a missionary where he lives and works.

Following the speeches came discussion groups aimed at pointing out ways in which the general topics must be applied when the delegates

JOAN MCMURCHIE

In her second year of B.Sc. Nursing, blue-eyed Joan McMurchie is civil engineers' candidate for Queen of the Engineers' Ball.

Joan spent her high school at Melville and Regina, but moved to Alberta for her nurse's training. She is 5ft. 6in. tall and likes popular music, parties, dancing and staying out after 10:30.

Since coming to Alberta two years ago, Joan numbers among her memorable experiences living in Pem and being a victim of the Pembina raid. She is at present hoping for a late leave the night after the ball.

An active participant in such sports as swimming, skating and golf, Joan is now learning the bumps in skiing.

On being asked if her chances of being kidnapped, Miss McMurchie replied: "Have you ever tried to get into the Nurses' Home?"

Her favorite faculty, outside of Nursing, is Engineering, with no comment on Law students.

"Melodic Tour Of Austria" Program Theme In Ed. Bldg.

"Visitors from Vienna—fun-laden musical show." That's what the Los Angeles Times had to say last year about the folk song and dance performance of the Third Austrian Student and Teacher Goodwill Tour of North America.

Nineteen young Austrians will stage "Visitors from Vienna" at the Education auditorium Friday at 2:30. Tickets are now on sale at Arts and Education Buildings, and will be on sale at the door.

The troupe is currently touring Canada and the United States for the third successive year, but this is their first visit to Edmonton. Recently they drew such crowds as 4,000 in Montreal and 2,500 in Winnipeg.

They are to stay at fraternity houses near the campus over the week-end. A full program is scheduled before their departure Sunday at 10:45 p.m. for Saskatoon.

Included in the program is a public performance Friday at 8:15 p.m. in Alberta College auditorium.

Activities on the campus will include a tour of the university and of points of interest in the city on Saturday afternoon, and a reception in the Wauneta Lounge of the SUB at 3:00 p.m. Sunday. Golden Key Society is making arrangements for these events.

Leading citizens in Edmonton and university, faculty and student officials have been invited to the reception.

Desire to Meet Students

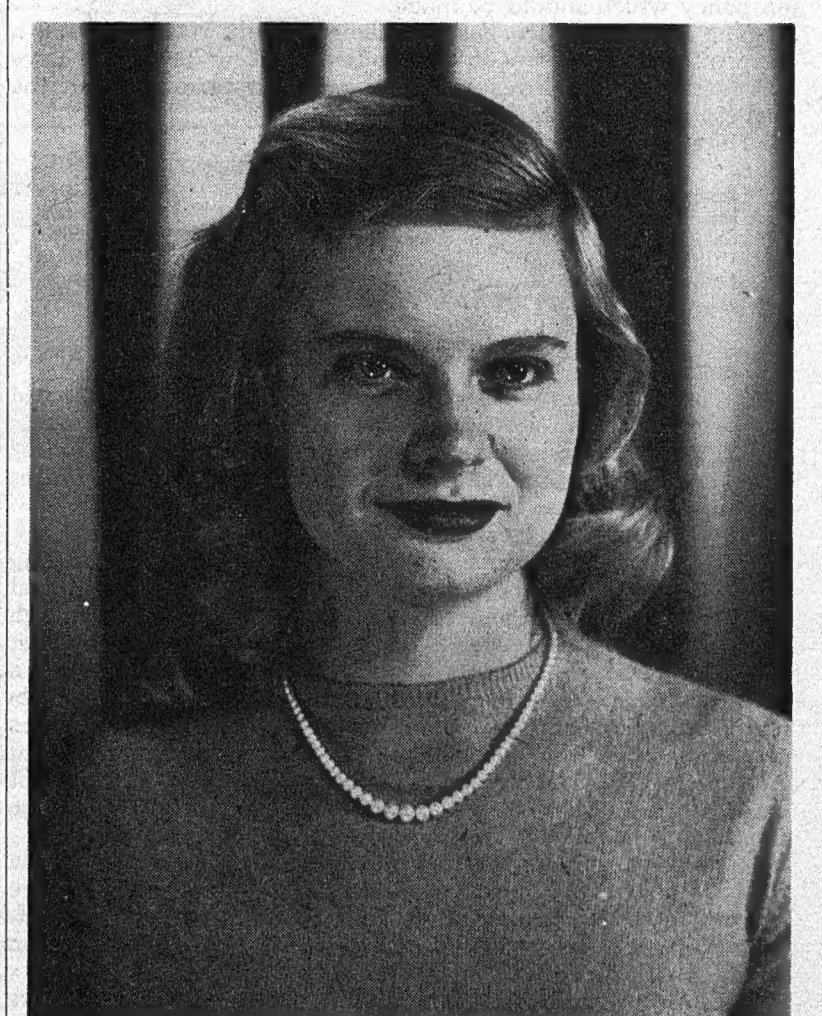

Saturday evening the Canadian-German Alliance of Edmonton, one of the local sponsoring groups, will entertain the visitors. Remainder of the week-end is comparatively free except for possible radio performances and private entertainment. The Austrians have expressed their desire to meet as many students as possible.

Director of the tour is Dr. Oskar F. Bock. It is not certain whether Dr. Bock will be accompanying the group to Edmonton, however. Blonde, comely Dr. (of Medicine) Susanne Polsterer will be in charge otherwise. She is Mistress of Ceremonies of the two-hour musical performance.

Organizational work for the local appearances of the Tour has been done by NFCUS Rep David McDonald, in co-operation with the United Nations Association, Edmonton Branch, and the Canadian-German Alliance of Edmonton. Besides McDonald, other students working to make "Visitors From Vienna" a success are publicity men Norman Simons and Doug Sherbanuk, and Fred Scott in charge of campus ticket sales.

LORNA LIVINGSTONE

Winsome Lorna Livingstone is second years Engineers' choice for Queen of the Engineers' Ball.

A first-year Education student in the English pattern, Lorna's most striking characteristics are her blue eyes and long blonde hair.

Like last year's Queen, Joyce Bannerman, Lorna comes to U. of A. by way of Banff. Her likes include movies, people, and—Engineers. Her tastes in food include

"just about everything."

Eighteen-year-old Lorna is an avid sports fan, taking part in such games as swimming, badminton, and volleyball. Visitors to Banff last summer will have noted Lorna working in a Banff swimming pool.

Beermen will have to keep a wary eye for kidnapers the next few days as Lorna takes her long, lonely walks between home and the Education Building.

Residence: Part Three

There are several points that have occurred in the discussion of the residences that should be cleared up, particularly for the benefit of W.A.D., whose letter appeared in The Gateway last Friday.

First, The Gateway instituted a new policy at Christmas that all editorials would in future bear the initials of the staff member who wrote the editorial. This does not mean, however, that The Gateway will not attempt to keep a unified editorial policy. When a staff member writes an editorial and signs his initials, he is not just expressing a personal opinion. He is expressing the paper's stand on that particular issue. As a result, the personal remarks directed against the editorial writer that were contained in W.A.D.'s letter are entirely uncalled for, unless, W.A.D., you wish to sling mud at The Gateway editorial staff in general.

Second, we do not agree with W.A.D. that "comparisons with Fraternity Houses and Boarding Houses do not mean much." The question of most concern to the students is "where can I get the most for my money?" We believe that we have a few suggestions whereby the student will be able to get more for his money and still live in residence.

Third, W.A.D. need go no further than St. Stephen's College to find magazines deposited in the public room of a student residence. The system is on the whole quite satisfactory, too, as any Stevie will tell you.

Fourth, W.A.D.'s flat statement that "in two and a half years in residence, I have yet to hear a serious complaint about the meals," is, to say the least, amazing. We just don't believe it.

Fifth, if The Gateway has, as W.A.D. charges, hit at the residence staff personally, then we must apologize. It would be hard to find a more esteemed group on the campus than the residence staff, and we did not intend to criticize them. We do believe, however, that there are several practical suggestions on policy which should be made.

The bursar's office has supplied us with a table giving a percentage breakdown of the student's $57 or $60. We have obtained similar figures from the men's fraternities with the highest and lowest board and room.

Here is the comparison:

	Residence	Frat A	Frat B
Board and Room	$57	$60	$51
Food	40%	55%	60%
Salaries	38%	10%	10%
Utilities and Laundry	12%	12%	10%
Maintenance and Repair	10%	16%	10%
Mortgage or Rent		7%	10%

The university subsidizes Residence an additional 2% above student fees.

A survey made by the advisory services last January showed an average charge for room and three meals in boarding houses of $52.38 for single rooms, $49.78 for double rooms.

The surprising thing about the comparison is that the figures are almost the same, except for Food and Salaries.

Now for some suggestions.

We think the residence spends too much money on keeping the place clean. Athabasca and Assiniboia are the official university residences and of course must maintain very high standards, but this seems to us to go to an extreme. Most students don't have servants to polish their floor several times a week at home. They don't have someone to sweep their room and make their bed. They don't need it here, either. Pembinites get along very well making their own beds. Athabasca and Assiniboia could do the same. Part-time student employment could also be instituted, which incidentally would help solve the financial problems of many students.

If this were done, the money saved could be added to the food budget. Twenty-five dollars a month is a rather meagre amount with which to try to feed each student. The complaints about meals which prompted this Gateway investigation would, we think, largely disappear.

These recommendations seem to us to be reasonable, and are well worthy of the consideration of the administration.—D.F.F.

Evergreen Apple

The Evergreen and Gold's senior staffers have been spending many long hours during the afternoons and evenings under pressure of deadlines.

Editor "Corky" Badgley paused briefly Wednesday evening to eat dinner—one small apple. "No time for coursin' around," she said. "Got to get to the core of the problem."

Editors of college newspapers, some people believe, should be obscene, but not heard.

He—Do you believe in free love?
She—Have I ever sent you a bill?

"Has your son's college education proved helpful since you've taken him into the firm?"
"Oh, yes, every time we have a conference we let him mix the drinks."

MAN OF THE YEAR

Time, the weekly news magazine, has selected Dr. Mohammed Mossadeq, Premier of Iran, as the single individual in 1951, more than any other influenced the events of the past twelve months. The choice was, we would humbly submit, a correct one. But to our way of thinking there was another person who, by his actions and the fact that he was able to get away with them, should be heralded as symbolizing a decided trend of thinking in a much more personal sphere than the realm of world politics.

We have in mind Mr. Wilbanks Smith, defensive tackle of the Oklahoma A. and M. football team. Mr. Smith, certainly, is symbolic of what seems to have become accepted practice in athletics and other endeavors; rule infractions are all right if you can get away with them.

Perhaps you have never heard of Wilbanks Smith. We defend his relative obscurity by repeating once again that he is a symbol of a major 1951 trend—a symbol only—and that is why he receives our nomination. You see, Wilbanks Smith is the man who broke Drake University's Johnny Bright's jaw by three calculated, deliberate attacks of sheer assault and battery with intent to do bodily harm, on the gridiron last fall.

A series of high speed photographs, given wide-spread circulation by the press of the United States and this country, so graphically reveal Smith's misdeeds as to leave little doubt as to his real purpose on the field when he should have been playing football. The pictures show the play going off in the opposite direction, with Drake completely removed and standing off to one side. Instead of trying to catch the ball carrier, as a defender should, Smith attacked Bright, smashing his fist into Bright's face. Smith did this twice more during the early stages of the game before Bright was carried off the field to have his jaw wired for six weeks.

The Drake athletic board called for Smith's expulsion, but the league officials did nothing, claiming they had no authority. Smith's university, the body who in the first instance should have taken action, also refrained from doing anything. This was virtually a condonation of his type of playing.

Wilbanks Smith, therefore, represents with success that trend of thinking which suggests that it is all right to break rules as long as you can get away with it. He (or his coach) has proven that you can get away with it. In a particularly bitter football season, which saw so many aces sidelined by gangster attacks, Smith was found publicly guilty and yet was exonerated, an inspiration to those who will come after him.

Peter Karpuk, of the Dominion champion Ottawa Roughriders, who jumped from the bench to tackle Toronto Argonaut's Ulysses Curtis when the latter was in the clear and on his way to a touchdown, is in the same league with Smith. Karpuk, however, falls short of Smith's mark, because the public rose in indignation at his flouting of the rules and the league introduced measures to cope with a similar infraction, should it ever occur again.

In the basketball world we have the numerous bribe scandals which came to light early last year. In these cases outstanding college hoop stars sold their talents and their integrity for cold cash. The type of thinking which came to the fore in Wilbanks Smith's actions, was prevalent much earlier to lead these young men from the paths of honesty and good sportsmanship. But they did not get away with it.

At West Point last summer ninety cadets were expelled for violating that institution's highly reputed honor code, bringing to light in the most shocking terms a situation which has existed there for many years. And the headlines of the past twelve to eighteen months ran rampant with report after report on dope consumption among high school students below the border.

But the young people were not alone in their iniquities, which Wilbanks Smith exemplifies. They had but to look at the highest offices in the administration of their country's business to find examples of "it's okay to violate the rules if you can get away with it." As Congressional committees investigated more and more influence-peddling, more and more corruption in high circles was unearthed. With the same lack of conscience trusted officials right across the country were betraying their sacred trusts.

Wilbanks Smith did get away with it. To those people who think the same way as he and the other rule infringers here mentioned, he must certainly rank as their Man of the Year.

OBVIOUS FALLACIES

Editor, The Gateway.

Dear Sir:

In reply to the epistle which appeared in one of the more recent editions of The Gateway, it is desired to point out some of the more obvious fallacies concerning the engineering building, the engineering faculty, and engineering students in general, as stated by I quote, "Ugh"—Law Student.

I wish to verify the so-called rumour that an engineering building is being planned for this campus. Furthermore, it is not being planned only, but should L.S. dare to arouse himself from his stupor and gaze yonder in the direction immediately west of the Medical Building (assuming L.S. understands directions) he should see that this magnificent structure is under construction.

Suggestion has been made that L.S. be poured in conjunction with the concrete to make up the foundations of this building. Upon further reconsideration, however, and applying well known engineering principles, it was decided that L.S. is structurally unsound, mentally and physically.

In his inane missive, L.S. made reference to the possibility(?) of relegating the esteemed Faculty of Engineering to the status of that of a mere trade school. A law student, being a creature of such deep perceptive ability, could not be expected to observe such structures as the High Level Bridge the MacDonald Extension, or the University Library, to cite a few obvious examples. Did it ever occur to L.S. that these structures did not arise solely due to the efforts of trade school graduates. It Engineering Skill, i.e. High Intelligence!

Since a University is an institution of scholars, as quoted by L.S. himself, he will undoubtedly agree that Galileo was a great scholar. Galileo was also one of the first engineers!

In regard to "cultural elevation", as quoted from L.S., just what is meant by culture? If L.S. means the study of various great writers such as Shakespeare, Chaucer, Milton, etc., or the study of the philosophies of such philosophers as Plato, Aristotle, or Socrates, then indeed, engineers are not cultured for these have no practical applications to everyday life. However, if by culture is meant the training or refining of the intellectual faculties, then engineers are extremely cultured!

Why is it that engineers are required to a greater extent by the economy of nations than any other university graduates? Obviously, universities should be expanded greatly to provide the necessary facilities for the training of more and more engineers.

ENGINEERING STUDENT.

Editor, The Gateway.

Dear Sir:

I found the latter on residence meals by Mr. W.A.D. in last week's

'Ow's About A Pint?

Exactly one month ago today, over three thousand students of the University of Alberta celebrated one of our world, national and religious festivals. These three thousand and more students attending the U of A spent between ten and one hundred dollars for customary gift-giving—for the most part, to persons having no need for any gifts. The sum total of thirty thousand dollars would be a conservative estimate of the Christmas giving of Alberta students.

Next Tuesday, the Canadian Red Cross Society will begin its fifth annual blood donor clinic on the University of Alberta campus. Over three thousand students will have the chance starting next week of giving the greatest gift of all—life itself. Live of new-born babies, accident victims, and hospital patients depend upon the maintenance of a weekly supply of eight hundred blood donations.

Donating blood is both painless and easy. With tests for anemia being made before such donation is permitted, the donor runs no risk whatsoever. Blood that is donated is quickly replaced by the body. In fact, all that is asked is the spending of half an hour's time, the actual donation taking less than five minutes.

Next week, the over three thousand students of the University of Alberta will be asked to contribute a pint of blood each in the campus clinic.

Can you spare half an hour to save a life?—H.J.L.

ADDITIONAL SPORT
Bears Maul Meteors
Take League Opener

Sparked by aggressive forward Don Macintosh, the Golden Bear hoopers got off to a flying start in the new Provincial cage loop, as they trounced the highly rated Waterloo Meteors 67-45 in a scramble game played at the Drill Hall on Friday night.

Meteors turned out to be a disappointment to the handful of fans who showed up for the game. Their shooting was shameful and their attack was listless. The addition of Coach Ole Bakken to the lineup did not strengthen advantage to the club. Even usually steady Bob Burtwell had a bad night, missing countless free throws, and Bob Fickell repeatedly failed with his ordinarily accurate hook shots. Meteors' bad showing was blamed on the fact that they hadn't played a game for about a month and a half.

Bears, on the other hand, put on one of their best performances of the season. They showed an amazing amount of drive and hustle, and their checking had obviously improved as a result of their U.S. trip. Don Macintosh, in his best effort on the local hardwood this year, paced the victors with 24 points. Don Newton tossed in 17, many of them long set-shots, and Steve Mendryk notched 13. After the game, Steve was heard to say, "I'm just hitting my stride." Jim also showed vast improvement.

The Bruins took a 20-10 lead in the first quarter as Macintosh clicked for a quick dozen points, and Varsity was never headed from there. They were in front 39-22 at half-time, and by the end of the third frame had increased their margin to twenty points. Scoring was low in the final ten minutes as the Bears concentrated on a defensive finish.

In another league game, Magrath upset Calgary for the third straight time.

The Bears leave for southern Alberta on Friday where they will play one contest with each southern club. They meet Calgary on Friday, and on the next night invade Magrath.

GOLDEN BEARS: Lucht 7, Cooper, Fairbanks 3, Day 1, Withers 2, Newton 17, Mendryk 13, Macintosh 24. Total 67.

METEORS: Pearce 7, Burtwell 7, Kruger 4, Moncrieff, Pickell 13, Bakken 2, Kimball 4, Leah 7, Stevenson 1. Total 45.

Joe's Nudge Meds
In Intramurals

Rallying for 20 points in the last half, St. Joe's nudged Meds 29-21. Gerald De Sorcy hit the basket for 8 points for the winners. Bill Engels and Clark Leavitt had 5 and 4 points respectively for the losers.

Theolog's, without Maggs and Page, dropped a 39-21 decision to Kappa Sigma "B's". Kennedy led Kappa Sigma with 13 points. Yoshima Kabayama dropped in 14 for the Preachers.

Bob Fitzpatrick and Ernie Molyneux, with 14 points apiece led Assiniboia to a 48-46 decision over Education A. Highest scorer of the night was Carl Saarinin with 22 points for Phys. Ers.

Phi Delta "B" scored 33 points in the last half to defeat Dekes 46-23. Phi Delt led only 13-11 at half-time, but murdered their opposition in the last half. Bill Ratcliffe and Graham Le Vourveau notched 12 apiece for Phi Delt. Cooper stood out for Dekes with 11 points.

Sigma Alpha Mu were downed 38-21 by Athabasca. Ken Jensen led Residence with 21, followed by Anderson with 10. Saul Hoffman garnered an even dozen for the Samnites.

Tied 16-16 at three-quarter time, Agriculture held Phi Delt "A's" scoreless in the last quarter to defeat them 24-16.

Wilton led the "Ploughmen" with 10 points. Mason and Ross fought back for Phi Delt with 8 and 4 points respectively.

A spectacular last minute drive just fell short as Engineers "A" edged Phi Kaps 30-29. After trailing 16-9 at half-time, Phi Kaps just missed upsetting the beermen's apiece. Black was high scorer for Kaps with 12.

Would the girl who got a blue net stole by mistake at the St. Joe's formal, please return same to Vi King, Pembina Hall. It's kind of important.

THE BEARS ARE ROLLING

Last Friday night in the varsity gym the Golden Bears jumped on the Waterloo Meteors for a 67-45 victory. The Bears' success was wrapped up in two factors, aggressive rebounding on both backboards and a stubborn defence that will take some cracking by their cross-city rivals. The much-heralded debut of Ole Bakken, former Vancouver Clover Leaf great, must now be classified as a Joe Louis comeback, for as in the words of the great bard Geoffrey Chaucer "it was a joy to see him sweat, and sweat he did. In fact, some fans claim to have seen the "Flying Enterprise" slide beneath the waves on that corner of the floor. "Tug-boat" Burtwell churned by firing many a shot—they were lost in the mist. Ed Lucht, who towers considerably above the mist, claims they missed. What else?

The ever-consistent and sometimes brilliant performances of Don Macintosh stamps him as one of the best basketball players ever to show in these parts, Price et al included. Hrmph! But probably the most significant feature of last Friday's game was the play of "Jimbo" Day. By his terrific rebounding and checking he has shown himself to be a player whom Coach Van Vliet will be proud and happy to keep around. To night our Olympic hopes are in Calgary and tomorrow in Magrath on their first road trip of the Alberta Basketball Conference.

Speaking of the Olympics, a cheerful note for the future comes from Vancouver, where the UBC Thunderbirds have lost 18 straight games. The "Birds" are Alberta's first opponents in the Intercollegiate Olympic playdowns and will be in Edmonton in early May.

BEST EVER

Dropped into the Golden Bear hockey practice the other night, and from our viewpoint (high up in the 98th row of the War Memorial Fill House—Varsity Corral to you Southerners) it looks like one of the best hockey teams ever to represent the green and gold. Tonight is the first home game of the new season as the Bears take on Saskatchewan Huskies in their annual tussle.

Saskatchewan fresh from a "victorious" road trip south of the border (won none, lost six), will have to do some fancy stubble jumping to stop such Bear stars as Zukiwsky, Dockery and "Pop" MacLean. The latter's presence in the nets will gain him the title of "The Father of Intercollegiate Hockey," and if his family continues to grow at its present rate, he will soon be known as the "Squire of South Edmonton." Seriously, though, every fan who is a fan should be out to at least one of these games, and even if you don't know Bill Fitzpatrick from the Atom Bum, you can always gaze at the blonde across the rink.

In spite of their meagre record to date, the Huskies might suddenly realize that to win games the puck must be shot from the stick into the net. However, this corner sees the Bears as double winners this weekend.

Our three-star forecast for the two-game series is Zukiwsky, Oughton and Kirk.

ORCHIDS TO PANDAS

Orchids of the week must go to Coach Elaine Fildes' Pandas. Their unexpected upset of the vaunted Army and Navy Pats is a tribute to the fighting spirit of these girls. It is this column's opinion that such players as Nora Olson and Nita Mercer rank with the best in the city loop, and the super-confident Pats had this brought home to them the hard way last Monday night. If the Pandas continue to show the same form this could be their year. Grrr—bring on the Huskiettes.

YEA, BEERCATS!

Varsity Bearcats thumped St. Tonys last Monday night 60-29. Bob Hayton and Bob MacDonald wheeled in 14 points apiece to spark the "Beercats". This Beercat title was picked up on the Junior team's recent foray into Calgary, where it seems that more basket shooting and less bird shooting would have been in order. 'Tis rumored that the 'Cats won't accompany the Pandas to Saskabush—Anon!

THE SPORTING THING—If you had half a heart, Sandy, you would kill that poor buffalo . . . speaking of shooting Mario when are you going to kill that gaudy yellow vest you wear?—a sporting gesture by Maimie would be to hold "open house—a sporting gesture by "Oozy" Code would be to just stop singing.

This week's sports question . . . What is the name of Fanny Blankers-Koen's youngest daughter?

Answer . . . Fanny Blankers-Koen.

Bear Essentials

Hardy Cup Series Opens Friday With Sask. Huskies

The Golden Bear hockey team will make their first defence of the W. G. Hardy trophy this week-end when they will play host to the University of Saskatchewan Huskies Friday and Saturday nights at the Varsity Rink.

These games will be the first two games of a five-game series, and will be the only major hockey series to be played on the Alberta campus this season. The remaining three matches will all be played in Saskatchewan if necessary.

Last year, the locals spotted Saskatchewan two games on foreign ice, and then swept the remaining three encounters at home. This was the first competition for the Hardy Trophy. The Halpenny Trophy was retired after the Bears won it fifteen years in a row.

The Bruins journeyed to Vermilion and Lloydminster last week-end, where they garnered exhibition victories over the Eastern Alberta clubs, knocking over the Vermilion Tigers 6-4 on Friday and then edging the Lloydminster Huskies 8-7 on the following night.

It was 20 below at Vermilion when the Bears tamed the Tigers. Throughout the game the Bruins held the margin of play. Wiebe's ice machine was definitely too powerful for the locals.

Bears started out in championship style in the first stanza, peppering the Vermilion netminder from all angles. Bill Fitzpatrick drew first

McFarlane, Mercer Spearhead Pandas In Calgary Game

Pandas whitewashed U of A Calgary Branch 50-22 last Friday evening in Calgary.

Coach Elaine Fildes' team, appearing in new gold uniforms with green trim, took an early lead, which they held throughout the game. The Joan McFarlane and Nita Mercer chalked up 14 and 12 points respectively, to be high scorers for the winners.

In the second game played in the southern city, Pandas edged the Calgary Wittichens 38-35.

Eleanor Cook and Nita Mercer shared scoring honors, collecting 13 points each.

blood on a relay from Kryczka, who did a great job playing his wing position. Bruins increased the margin with a well rifled shot by hard-working Bill Dockery as he swung in from left wing to finish off an assist from Ted Kryczka. Don Kirk garnered two more, with both assists going to big Ed Zukiwsky, making it 4-0 at the end of the first.

The team went through a scoreless second period at a much slower tempo than in the first. Neither goalie had too much to handle, but Laubman's comparative inactivity was due largely to some lusty body-checking by his defense.

Goal-getters in the remaining stanza were Ed Johns and Cal Oughton, who took time off from a great performance at rearguard to run the final tally up to 6-4.

Harry Handryk saw little action during the contest due to a knee injury, which left the work of cutting off Krueger's powerline in the capable hands of Lea, Oughton and Zenko. Goal-tending of Bill MacLean was a bright feature of the contest. He turned back all but four of the Tigers' 42 tries.

With 25 seconds remaining in a tie game, Keith Lea led the Bruins to victory in a rough, tough fixture with the league leading Lloydminster Huskies. Intercepting a sloppy clearance, Lea caught the netminder napping and slammed home the big one with a screen shot.

The game was a rugged struggle throughout, with no punches being pulled, but a few nearly being exchanged. The entire squad worked well together. Outstanding was big Ed Zukiwsky, who spearheaded the Bear assault, picking up three goals and two assists. With the Bears down 8-6 in the closing four minutes, big Ed came through with two markers two minutes apart, to bring 800 roaring fans to their feet.

In the first period the Huskies held the edge on the play, piling up four counters before Zukiwsky and Ron Donnelly started the club rolling. Action continued hot and heavy

Ski Train To Banff February 1 Weekend

Varsity ski fans are in for a treat next week-end when they will have the opportunity of seeing an International Intercollegiate ski meet, of spending two full days in a winter wonderland, and of having the time of their lives, all for a surprisingly small amount of money.

A special train leaves Edmonton Friday evening, and arrives in Banff early on the following morning. The meet is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 2 and 3. The return train leaves Banff late on Sunday and pulls into Edmonton at 6 in the morning.

Here's what only $21.90 will get for everyone who takes part in the excursion:

- a tourist train ticket, return.
- a room Saturday night at either the Cascade, King Edward, or Mt. Royal Hotel.
- breakfast and supper on both days.
- return transportation to Mount Norquay where the events will be run off.
- lunch while at Mount Norquay.

—a trip up the famous Banff Chair Lift.

—a ticket to either a Saturday night dance or movie.

Reservations may be made at the CPR ticket office or by phoning 27411. All Varsity students wishing to make the trip should let the ticket agent know that they are from the campus so that Varsity reservations will be made in a bloc.

Pandas Take Pats In Surprise Upset

University Pandas scored a surprise victory when they downed the previously undefeated Pats 30-25 last Monday evening at Vic High School.

Trailing by five points at half-time, the green and gold quintet outscored their opponents 16-6 in the third quarter to take a 28-23 lead. In the final frame they played excellent defensive basketball allowing the Pats to score only one basket.

Joan McFarlane was high scorer for the winners with 11 points, while Nora Olson and Nita Mercer scored 7 and 6 points respectively.

Eleanor MacIntosh picked up 10 points for the losers.

Lineups: PATS: Dickson 3, Cramer 2, McIntosh 10, Goldsworthy, Culver, Koss, Sufferin, McLeod, Gibb 1, Cornelis 9, Skitch. Total 25.

'Cats Beat Saints In Junior Tilt

The Junior Bearcats moved into a second place tie with St. Anthony's in the City Junior League by trouncing the Saints 60-29 Monday night at Victoria Gym.

Bob Hayton and Bob MacDonald led the 'Cats with 14 points apiece. Hayton now leads the league in scoring with 39 points, three ahead of his nearest rival.

Varsity was ahead all the way. They led 27-12 at half-time, and 44-23 at the end of the third quarter.

BEARCATS: Bercoy 4, MacDonald 14, Hayton 14, Clark 1, Cooper 6, Milne 2, Black 5, D'Acoust 4, Murray 9, Richardson 1. Total 60.

tribal times to the sovereign nations of today, shows that, "Human nature is such that as long as sovereignty resides in a small group and not in society as a whole, war is inevitable." Now is the time for new methods, for good faith and an attempt at world government, not for sovereignty's weapon, armament." Bill Miner pointed out that Russia's sovereignty is the threat to world peace. Russia's record proves she has no intention of good faith now. "There can be no peace where peaceful nations are vulnerable," he said. Continuing, he pointed out that "the West can force a period of peace to give time for the ideas to face each other."

Alberta SCM delegates were Oakley Dyer, Marilyn Hughes, Min Takada, Leslie Brown, Shirley Munro, Elaine Sinclair and Imogene Walker.

Some People

(From The Ubysey)

Vancouver (CUP). — An honest, old-fashioned thief walked into a San Francisco store and scooped $400 into a paper bag. He then calmly walked out of the store without noticing that his loot was slowly filtering through a hole in the bag. Pedestrians scurried after the notes littering the sidewalk. Not one of them thought of stopping the thief. After all, the thief might have been the rightful owner of the cash, and might have wanted it back.

Symphony

"Young Artist Series," and it is under this name that the orchestra will play. The Quota Club wanted to give young artists and students an opportunity to perform in different cities and towns, so that their talent might be recognized, and in order to allow the performer to develop in concert work and stage presence.

This symphony tour consists of a one-night stand on March 15 in Red Deer. Within the next few years a tour similar to that of the mixed Chorus spring tour may be possible. Program in Red Deer will vary slightly from the Edmonton performances on March 6 and 7th. It is hoped that a piano concerto and a vocalist will be included in the program. Some of the items will be "The Merry Wives Overture" by Nicolai, "La Gazza Ladra" by Rossini, excerpts from Mendelssohn's Midsummer Night's Dream, and Eine Kleine Nachtmusik by Mozart. The concert in Red Deer will conclude the activities of the orchestra for 1952.

Mixed Chorus

ber in the second section. It is followed by the folk song, "Lonesome Valley," arranged by George Lynn. "The Keys of My Heart" and "With Jockey to the Fair" conclude the first half of the program. Third section opens with an 18th century bit of "advice to the melancholy," in an anonymous song, "Come, Let's Be Merry." Three madrigals follow: "The Silver Swan" by Gibbons; "Every Bush New Springing," and "April Is in My Mistress' Face." Closing number of this group is by Haydn, called "The Gentle Art." Lively folk song, "The Saucy Bold Robber" opens the concluding portion of the program. This is followed by a poem of Shelley's set to music by Gordon Jacob, "Music, When Soft Voices Die." The chorus will then sing two pieces familiar to all, the spiritual, "All God's Chillum" and "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes." Former patrons of the chorus will be reminded of the "Swazi Warrior," sung several years ago, by the final number of the program, a dance song from New Providence island, "Carry Him Along."

Over heard in SUB

"Am I a good dancer? Say, if someone showed me how to samba I could dance it to a Strauss waltz."

Overheard in an Air Force bus following a shooting exercise (in a bored voice): "Yes, I spoiled that last target—I hit it once."
